

Dear sir I travel full time in a motor home, by the way I'm 70 yrs old, and I can an do listen to channel 4 & 5 most of the time.

In the past, before XM, I was forced to try and locate a "oldies station" before I ran out of town and usually I would lose the station in 30 minites or so , any way , I was always looking...now that I have xm I am able to travle across this country WITH OUT losing my oldies stations, channels 4 &5 While travling across this country.

It would be great to hear the weather of the town I'n in, right now I'm in Williams, Az, tomorrow I'm headed to Las vegas, Nv, then to Carson City, NV for a Rambler rally, then to Napa, Ca for the International Rambler rally. So you can see I do listen to XM radio.

I will admit there is a lot of crap on XM, but I don't have to listen to it.....But I would like to have more local (where I'm at) weather.

Thanks for putting up with my comments IF YOUVE READ THIS FAR

EDWARD G. LEE